Consulting Specialists for the Construction Industry

Associated Consulting Technicians, Inc. is a leading consulting specialist providing a portfolio of professional support services to the construction industry. At ACT, we focus on assisting our clients in successfully managing their companies, construction programs and projects, as well as analyzing and resolving disputes on projects that are inherent within the construction industry.

ACT offers construction professionals with diverse specialties and a common dedication to excellence. Our proven ability to plan or evaluate construction projects in terms of custom usage, standard of care, required resources, time and cost enables our staff to analyze, plan and monitor large, complex and specialized undertakings. This capability is at the heart of our success in dispute resolution and construction management. Accordingly, we are called upon for just this reason by the world's leading owners, builders and designers.

Our primary objective is to insure that our clients' construction projects are completed successfully, profitably, and with minimum of risk - through the control of time, cost and quality.

We recognize the constantly changing environment of the construction industry and the need to tailor programs to meet individual clients' needs. We are uniquely qualified to offer:

- CPM Scheduling
- Schedule Analysis
- Construction Management
- Cost and Time Entitlement
- Construction Cost Quantification
- In-house P3 Training
- Damage Quantification
- Data Management
- Labor Productivity Analysis
- Mediation and Facilitated Negotiations
- Graphics and Demonstrative Evidence
- Litigation Support

With 25 years previous experience as President of two ENR Top 150 GC & Civil Firms, ACT's consulting services are streamlined to focus specifically on the needs of our valued clients. Most importantly, we thrive on our ability to efficiently meet those needs. With more than 2000 completed projects throughout the Continental US, ACT has extensive experience in all types of construction projects.

Assisting clients in timely project completion is our primary goal. By providing professional CPM scheduling services at extremely reasonable rates, this goal is achieved on a routine basis. With below average rates, ACT's competition is seldom other consultants, but clients that purportedly intend to perform such services in-house. Nevertheless other duties, turnover in personnel and inadequate schedule knowledge often result with in-house scheduling efforts being inadequate and incomplete. When delays and the necessity for claims arise, such deficiencies will be costly.

ACT has a highly successful track record in claims analysis and litigation support and we gladly provide such services. However, we urge clients and prospective clients to take precautionary measures to insure that schedules are properly prepared and updated on a regular basis.
